

TAXI

Veer makes it easier to be creative.

Get 10 free credits to spend on images & fonts.

Daily News

The Creative Bookstore (For Creative Individuals and Businesses)

The Best of the Best of Brochure Design
Jason Godfrey, Wil...
New $26.40
Best $19.40

Privacy Information

TAXI
designtaxi

Socks for your chair? <http://su.pr/1tYKkQ>
38 minutes ago

twitter

Join the conversation

26 Jul 2010

India Launches $35 Laptop, World's Cheapest

Foursquare Partners VH1 for Summer-Long TV Spots

« PREVIOUS

NEXT »

Chairs that Defy Gravity

26 Jul 2010 | Leave a comment

An Italian designer has built a chair that defies the law of gravity. Or at least, create the illusion of doing so.

Designed by Davide Conti, 'Magica' and 'Magica 2' are chairs that each have two out of the usual four legs replaced with transparent plexiglass. And this shatter-resistant glass panels, positioned properly, are what creates the gravity-defying illusion.

For its aesthetic value, Magica does seem like a great design. But practically speaking? We're not too sold on that idea.

FEATURED ON

Browse more

Add portfolio

The Creative Finder

