Magic Chair with Invisible Feet from Davide Conti

At a first glance, this chair appears to disobey the laws of Physics. The Magic Chair comes from designer Davide Conti and seems to only stand on one foot. This optical illusion is made possible due to a transparent material which is used to help maintain the balance of the chair. But since this material is almost invisible, when looking at this product from a certain angle, the user will surprisingly only see a bunch of straight thin lines. Despite its fragile appearance, this chair is very durable and strong. Moreover, it is a very original piece of furniture to have around. Its elegance is another strong feature and its simplicity make it very easy to adjust in almost any type of interior. However, in order to preserve the unique style of this design, we recommend a minimalist arrangement. Do you agree? -via Decoesfera
